

Central Asia Hybrid Compression Energy Storage Project

Overview

The project, invested and constructed by China Energy Engineering Group Co., (CEEC), has set three world records in terms of single-unit power, storage capacity, and energy conversion efficiency. This milestone marks China's CAES technology entering the 300 MW era of. BEIJING-- (BUSINESS WIRE)-- The world's first 300 MW compressed air energy storage (CAES) demonstration project, "Nengchu-1," was fully connected to the grid in Yingcheng, central China's Hubei Province on Thursday, marking the official commencement of commercial operations for the power station. As wind and solar power installations grow rapidly, this CAES facility - one of the largest under construction in Eurasia - addresses the critical.
